WELCOME

Dear Colleagues,

We feel honoured to invite you all to the 6th IAPM TS Chapter, Annual Conference on 9th & 10th September 2023, being hosted by department of Pathology, Mamata Medical College, Khammam.

We are making sure that this conference will provide platform to Postgraduates, dynamic pathologists to present, share and gain the knowledge.

During the past quarter century, revolutionary advances made in molecular biopsy is having a major impact on the practice of surgical pathology. Indeed, they have the potential to change the practice in a way that no other techniques ever had before. Advances are occurring at such a rate that it has become very difficult to capture them all, even if highly specialized. Therefore we are trying to give superficial, general overview of the field, with some personal reflections.

The Scientific programme is designed to update the knowledge and to take the participants through the diagnostic and clinical pathways with plenary lectures, interactively conducted sessions by eminent speakers.

I welcome you all on behalf of organizing committee, 6th IAPM TS Chapter, Mamata Medical College, Khammam to this conference and make the event successful.
